facing to replenish storage inventories in preparation for the 2018-2019 heating season...."

Failure to act soon, the company claims, is outside "the public interest." But FERC declined to be persuaded by the company's comments. Staff instead responded with a formal notice directing the company to complete outstanding restoration activities at those two Ohio sites.

"Because restoration of these facilities was not complete at the time of in-service authorization, Rover committed to completing the remaining restoration activities by specific dates," wrote John Wood, FERC's deputy director of the Office of Energy Projects. "However, commission staff monitoring certificate compliance believes that rover will be unable to meet a number of those commitments...."

As a result, staff directed Rover to take "prompt and immediate action" and to file prior to July 9 a detailed account of why the company cannot adhere to the agreed upon timetable.

"Neither the commission nor its staff takes lightly a pipeline's commitments to restore and rehabilitate affected lands," Mr. Wood said. "Accordingly, the commission expects pipelines to follow through on their commitments to restore and rehabilitate land and other resources disturbed by the construction of a certificated pipeline."

In response, Mr. Sonneborn issued a second letter this week leveling further attacks, accusing FERC staff of making "several inaccurate statements" toward the project and the company's willingness to fulfill its land restoration commitments.

"For the record, and as Rover has stated previously in this docket on numerous occasions, Rover will honor and meet all of its restoration commitments - whether those are scheduled to occur before or after Rover is fully in service," Rover wrote. "Any implication to the contrary is simply untrue."

Rover now is also accusing FERC staff of "a fundamental misunderstanding" of how the restoration process works.

"A company can supply ample resources, equipment, and personnel to restoration efforts; however, the variable of weather, and therefore the pace of restoration, is simply outside of any pipeline's control," Rover wrote. "There is no amount of planning or resources that can change the reality that on any major pipeline project there are always going to be changes to the restoration schedule due to events outside of the pipeline's control."

The company's public pushback accusing FERC of stating falsehoods is much like the back-and-forth Rover has engaged in with the Ohio Environmental Protection Agency. Rover and the OEPA have engaged in a months-long back and forth with Rover accusing OEPA of cooperating with the company in private but taking an adversarial approach in public.

That tiff ultimately led to a lawsuit filed by the state, which Rover and several other defendants have filed to dismiss. (See Gongwer Ohio Report, March 5, 2018)

Public Comments Continue On State, Federal Lifeline Proposals

Stakeholder groups and citizens are continuing their efforts to thwart state and federal proposals that would eliminate in whole or in part a federal discount program for low-income customers.

At the state level, AT&T is proposing to discontinue its participation in the federal Lifeline program - which grants eligible customers a $9.25 monthly credit - in areas in which another provider operates that service.

But the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio has yet to approve that plan and in recent days has urged the public to weigh in via written feedback.

Meanwhile, the Federal Communications Commission is weighing a similar but more far-reaching plan that would largely eliminate the resource for a swathe of customers across the country. (See Gongwer Ohio Report, February 23, 2018)

In the PUCO case, comments have been submitted from a handful of citizens as of Friday, each urging the commission to deny AT&T's plan and maintain the program.

Several commenters described themselves as licensed social workers working with elderly populations. Others are customers who benefit from the program and who labeled the company's attempt to cut it "indefensible" and "abhorrent."

AT&T, for its part, has emphasized that no Ohio customer will lose voice service through the move but will instead receive it at the standard rate. Customers are free, it said, to receive the Lifeline discount from other providers in those areas.

The move "will have only a nominal impact on Ohio consumers who have demonstrated a clear preference for obtaining their Lifeline discount from (companies) other than AT&T," the company said. "Over the past eight years, AT&T has seen its own Ohio Lifeline subscribership shrink by 94%."

Advocates, though, caution the move would strip vulnerable Ohioans of a valuable resource. The Ohio Consumers' Counsel and the Greater Edgemont Community Coalition are among those protesting the idea. In part, they've urged commissioners to solicit public input and take the federal case into consideration. (Docket)

In the federal case, the Federal Communications Commission is proposing changes critics say will erect more barriers for Lifeline consumers nationwide. There are about 608,000 total subscribers in Ohio, according to proponents of the program.

The PUCO and the Ohio Consumers' Counsel are among parties that have submitted comments in opposition to the federal proposal.

Under the proposed changes, eligible consumers must enroll online first through a third-party verifier and then through a specified carrier. Currently, the customer can enroll directly through their provider.

Proponents of the Lifeline program this week were denied a stay in the case when regulators determined the parties were unlikely to prevail on the merits and would not suffer irreparable injury.

In response, Q Link, the nation's third-largest Lifeline provider, on Thursday filed an emergency motion that if approved would enact additional changes to enable carriers to collect customer information directly from the third-party verifier.

Q Link serves about 40,000 Lifeline customers in Ohio. Sixty-seven percent reside in rural or suburban areas and 82% are new to Lifeline, which the company said indicates they were previously unserved by and may not have access to other providers.

"The...proposed change will be unnecessarily difficult and confusing for consumers," said Q Link CEO Issa Asad in a statement. "Beyond the impact on rural Americans, which will be significant, the new system's failure to include automated links with carriers will unnecessarily cost taxpayers tens of millions of dollars."

'Sweeping' Changes In Store After Federal Regulators Reject PJM Capacity Market Plans

Federal regulators voted along party lines recently to toss aside two proposals from PJM Interconnection to revamp the capacity market, paving the way for a potentially drastic shake up in the months ahead.

PJM in April submitted two competing proposals for FERC's consideration on how to best overhaul the market. But in the end, the commission's 3-2 order went far beyond simply rejecting the proposals and instead paves the way for what one dissenting commissioner labeled "sweeping" changes for the grid operator that serves 13 states. (See Gongwer Ohio Report, May 7, 2018)

In short, the commission determined subsidies for renewable and nuclear sources have rendered PJM's current tariff "unjust, unreasonable and unduly discriminatory" in that it fails to ensure adequate competition. FERC is now proposing to expand the minimum offer price rule - which enacts a screening process to gauge the competitiveness of new resources - among other changes.

"We find...the PJM Tariff allows resources receiving out-of-market support to significantly affect capacity prices in a manner that will cause unjust and unreasonable and unduly discriminatory rates in PJM regardless of the intent motivating the support," the majority wrote. "We are compelled...to conclude that out-of-market payments by certain PJM states have reached a level sufficient to significantly impact the capacity market clearing prices and the integrity of the resulting price signals on which investors and consumers rely to guide the orderly entry and exit of capacity resources."

Stakeholder groups in Ohio and beyond are still parsing the details of the 106-page order, but they have a short timetable to digest its ramifications. After the 60-day comment window, parties have 30 days for reply comments after which FERC wants to reach a solution.

PJM issued a statement stating its pleasure that FERC is taking action.

"The order appears to be a positive step to change competitive electric market design while recognizing the important role states play in influencing the resource mix through retail energy policies," according to PJM. "We will begin work immediately to develop the kind of bifurcated capacity construct envisioned by the commission and actively engage stakeholders, including the states, within the timetable laid out by the commission."

But FERC's two Democratic members issued scathing dissents regarding the substance of the order and the timeline laid out by the majority.

"Let's be clear: through its action today, the majority signals its intent to adopt, through a 90-day paper hearing, the most sweeping changes to the PJM capacity construct since the market's inception more than a decade ago," Commissioner Cheryl LaFleur wrote in her dissent. "If ultimately adopted, this proposal would fundamentally rebalance the resource adequacy responsibilities of the states, the commission, and PJM."

Commissioner Richard Glick said the commission in its order "entirely fails" to demonstrate its claims the market is unjust and further criticized the timeline.

"Requiring interested parties to decipher today's order, develop testimony, gather evidence, and meaningfully respond within 60 days is irresponsible," he said. "On top of that, this short timeframe essentially guarantees that PJM will not be able to work with the states to develop a proposal that aligns with state policies."

Agency Briefs: Hurst To Replace Plouck At ODMHAS; U.S. Unemployment Rate Up; OSHP; ODNR

Dr. Mark Hurst will replace Tracy Plouck as director of the Department of Mental Health and Addiction Services next week as Ms. Plouck, a longtime administration official, leaves for the private sector.

Gov. John Kasich announced Dr. Hurst's appointment Friday. He will take over the department effective July 13.

Ms. Plouck has been in Gov. Kasich's cabinet since 2011 and has twice served as state Medicaid director. She also served as deputy director in the Department of Developmental Disabilities and the Office of Budget and Management.

"I'm extremely grateful to Tracy Plouck for her leadership, compassion, counsel and service to Ohio," Gov. Kasich said. "She has a servant spirit and exemplifies the best in public leadership. She is a model for other leaders to follow and I wish her and her family all the best in this new chapter of their lives."

Dr. Hurst has served as medical director at ODMHAS since 2012 and has been at the department since 1993.

"Dr. Hurst's leadership, insights and compassion have distinguished him as a valuable member of our team and contributed mightily to the progress Ohio is beginning to make against addiction and to lift up our fellow Ohioans struggling with mental illness," Gov. Kasich said in a statement. "I appreciate that he's agreed to take on this responsibility. The work ahead is monumental and the challenges will continue to shift, but his leadership has been-and will continue to be-an enormous asset in Ohio's efforts in these areas."

Unemployment: The U.S. added 213,000 jobs in June despite a loss of jobs in retail trade, but the unemployment rate rose to 4% as more people re-entered the labor force, the Bureau of Labor Statistics reported Friday.

The unemployment rate rose by 0.2 percentage points to 4% as the number of unemployed people rose by nearly 500,000 to 6.6 million, the BLS reported.

The overall labor force grew significantly, rising by 601,000, with the labor force participation rate rising 0.2 percentage points to 62.9%, the report said.

The survey found job gains of 50,000 for the month in professional and business services. Manufacturing employment grew by 36,000, mostly in durable goods manufacturing, including fabricated metal products (+7,000), computer and electronic products (+5,000) and primary metals (+3,000).

Motor vehicles and parts manufacturing bounced back from a loss of 8,000 jobs in May with a gain of 12,000 in June, the report found.

Health care employment was up 25,000 for the month, construction was up 13,000 and mining was up 5,000.

Retail trade lost 22,000 jobs, a month after seeing a gain of 25,000 in May.

State Highway Patrol: The patrol reported eight people were killed in four deadly crashes during the Fourth of July reporting period Tuesday and Wednesday. Impairment was a factor in at least one of the deadly crashes.

During last year's reporting period, from June 30 to July 4, there were 21 fatal crashes that killed 21 people, including eight OVI-related crashes, the patrol said.

Troopers made 296 impaired driving arrests and 276 arrests on drug charges. They responded to 297 crashes and assisted more than 2,000 motorists.

"When someone chooses to drive impaired the consequences can be deadly," Patrol Superintendent Col. Paul A. Pride said in a statement. "That's why troopers make OVI enforcement a priority, whether they're patrolling during a holiday weekend or any time of day. Motorists should always pre-plan a sober way home."

Natural Resources: The department's officers and partnering agencies issued 102 citations and 895 warnings last weekend during Operation Dry Water, a nationwide crackdown on impaired boating.

There were three boating-related fatalities in Ohio during the weekend, the ODNR said.

ODNR officers and partners contacted 3,500 boaters on 1,261 vessels for various violations during the crackdown.

The Division of Oil and Gas Resources Management reported that 2,840 permits had been issued for drilling in the Utica shale as of June 30, with 2,370 wells drilled and 1,904 in production.

Burke Blasts Cordray's Medicaid Comments; Soybean Group Sounds Tariff Alarm; Boccheri Calls For More Local Funding

A lawmaker on Friday accused Democratic gubernatorial candidate Richard Cordray of either lying about or not understanding the issue of Medicaid expansion.

Sen. Dave Burke (R-Marysville), who chairs the Senate Health, Human Services & Medicaid Committee, accused Mr. Cordray of twice in the past week saying that 26,000 children could be impacted if Medicaid expansion were rolled back.

However, Sen. Burke said in a statement that the expansion covers only childless adults.

"Richard Cordray continues to make Medicaid expansion a key part of his campaign for governor, but his statements over the past week prove he does not understand Ohio's Medicaid program. Cordray's comments in the media show he is either unprepared to be governor, or that he is willing to blatantly lie and use fear tactics to scare Ohioans into voting for him," he said.

"Medicaid comprises over 50% of Ohio's annual budget. If Richard Cordray doesn't understand such a key part of the state budget, then Ohioans simply cannot trust him to sit in the governor's office. Richard Cordray is making promises, and this week he's proven to us that he doesn't know how he would keep them, even if he wanted to."

In response, the campaign of Mr. Cordray cited a 2016 report from the Georgetown University Center for Children and Families that credited Medicaid expansion for 26,000 children gaining insurance coverage from 2013-2015.

Tariff Concerns: The Ohio Soybean Association is sounding the alarm about retaliatory tariffs China has placed on American soybeans. The tariffs kicked in Friday in response to tariffs enacted by the Trump Administration that same day on an array of Chinese goods.

The group in a statement said 61% of all soybean exports go to China, which accounts for about $14 billion annually in sales.

"This doesn't only hurt Ohio farmers, it will hurt the entire Ohio economy," said Allen Armstrong, OSA president and soybean farmer from Clark County. "We continue to believe that solutions can be found that do not involve tariffs and a trade war that will hurt all of rural America."

Local Funding: A new report by the Brookings Institute has led to a renewed call for more local government funding.

The report found that from 2010-2017, three Ohio cities ranked in the top 20 in population decline: Youngstown (19), Toledo (12) and Cleveland (5).

Rep. John Boccheri (D-Alliance) in a statement called for additional funding for local governments to stem the tide of population loss.

"You can push the responsibility of raising revenue to the lowest layers of government while sending more and more to state government," he said. "As elected officials, we have a duty to work together to get things done - regardless of who is in charge."

Case Remanded After Judge Cites Article In Sentencing; High Court Denies Stay Of Execution; Buckeye Institute Weighs In On Case...

A federal district court judge erred in doubling a man's sentence after citing a Cleveland.com article on opioid overdoses, the Sixth Circuit Court of Appeals ruled recently.

Marcus Fleming in July 2016 was pulled over by Canton police and found to be carrying nearly 1,000 grams of cocaine.

Based on federal sentencing guidelines, the prosecution recommended five years in prison for Mr. Fleming.

However, at the sentencing hearing Judge John Adams cited the article before handing down a 10-year sentence.

Mr. Fleming argued he was prejudiced by the use of the article because he did not know it would be cited at the sentencing hearing and he was not provided an opportunity to address the issues raised.

The Sixth Circuit agreed, finding the sentence was rendered in a procedurally unreasonable manner.

"The district court's consideration of information about mixed cocaine-opioid overdose deaths was a surprise because, before the sentencing hearing, there was no indication that opioids were relevant to this case, let alone that they would play a prominent role. Fleming was convicted for possession of cocaine, not opioids," Judge John Rogers wrote in the court's decision.

"Nothing in the record suggested that opioids were found in Fleming's car, or that Fleming had ever sold or possessed opioids, or even that any cocaine Fleming sold had ever been mixed with opioids. Of course, opioids have been a topic of grave public concern in recent years, as their devastating and tragic effects have been felt across the country. But it was far from apparent that they were relevant to Fleming's sentence for possession of cocaine."

Judge Rogers was joined by Judge Raymond Kethledge and Judge Damon Keith in his decision.

The case is remanded back to the district court for sentencing.

Stay Denied: The Ohio Supreme Court has declined to stay the execution of a man set to be put to death this month.

In a unanimous ruling the court declined to stay the July 18 execution of Robert Van Hook.

He is on death row after being convicted of the 1985 murder of David Self.

Judicial Deference: The Buckeye Institute has filed an amicus brief in a case that could end judicial deference to executive agencies' interpretations of the law.

"The practice of courts relying on agencies to interpret the law has proven to be dysfunctional, inconsistent with our constitutional system, and has led to the erosion of individual liberties," President and CEO Robert Alt said in a statement. "It is time for the Supreme Court to junk Chevron."

Disciplinary Proceedings: The Board of Professional Conduct announced that 12 cases have been certified for formal disciplinary proceedings.

Portman Sets Sights On Deferred Park Maintenance; Dems Welcome Pruitt's Exit; Ryan Tours Immigrant Facility

U.S. Sen. Rob Portman (R-Terrace Park) is among a bipartisan group of senators aiming to tackle about $12 billion in deferred maintenance within the National Park Service.

He joined with senators Mark Warner (D-VA), Lamar Alexander (R-TN), and Angus King (I-ME) to introduce the Restore Our Parks Act, which has earned support from Secretary of the Interior Ryan Zinke, the National Parks Conservation Association, the Pew Charitable Trusts' Restore America's Parks Campaign and the Outdoor Industry Association.

"For more than a century, the National Park Service has been inspiring Americans to explore the natural beauty of our country," Sen. Portman said in a statement. "But in order to keep that work going, we need to ensure that they have the right resources to maintain our national parks. This bill will create the Legacy Restoration Fund to provide the National Park Service with funds for deferred maintenance projects."

The legislation would provide more than $100 million in funding for work at parks and historic sites in Ohio. The vast majority of the funding would go toward improvements at two sites: Perry's Victory and International Peace Memorial in Put-in-Bay ($47.7 million) and Cuyahoga Valley National Park in Cuyahoga and Summit counties ($45.8 million).

Resignation: Democratic members of Ohio's congressional delegation had no kind words for U.S. EPA Administrator Scott Pruitt following his resignation Thursday.

"Scott Pruitt used taxpayer dollars to benefit himself while working to gut Lake Erie cleanup and the Renewable Fuel Standard and the Ohio jobs that depend on them," U.S. Sen. Sherrod Brown tweeted. "He never should have been confirmed in the first place, and it's past time for him to go."

U.S. Rep. Tim Ryan (D-Niles) issued a brief statement in response to the departure: "It's about time."

U.S. Rep. Joyce Beatty (D-Blacklick) simply tweeted "Byeeeeee!" with a link to a media report about Mr. Pruitt's resignation.

Immigration: Rep. Ryan and three of his U.S. House colleagues from Michigan on Thursday received a tour of Bethany Christian Services' facility in Grand Rapids and learned about the organization's plans to reunite immigrant children with their families.

Rep. Ryan in a statement called the Trump administration's policy of separating children from parents at the U.S.'s southern border "state sponsored abuse."

"Children are traveling by themselves or with their loved ones to avoid violence and danger in their country, and they fled to the United States to find safety and security. They are doing what any responsible parent would do," he said. "But when they arrive at our border, the Trump Administration turns its back on our values and rips children away from their parents - with zero plan to bring them back together."

Hearing: Sen. Brown and Sen. Portman will conduct a field hearing of a congressional committee charged with solving looming pension problems next week at the Statehouse.

The House and Senate Joint Select Committee on Pensions will meet at 2 p.m. next Friday at in the Finan Hearing Room. The hearing will allow panel members to receive testimony from Ohio workers and retirees who could be affected if Congress fails to take action.

Multiple plans Ohioans participate in, including the Central States Teamsters Pension Plan, the United Mine Workers Pension Plan, the Ironworkers Local 17 Pension Plan, the Ohio Southwest Carpenters Pension Plan and the Bakers and Confectioners Pension Plan "are currently on the 'brink of failure,'" according to a news release from Sen. Portman's office.

The committee, which has 16 members appointed by House and Senate leadership, has been tasked with reporting a bill to resolve the issue by the end of November.

Capitol Scene: Child Caring Group Updates Name

The advocacy group formerly known as the Ohio Association of Child Caring Agencies has renamed itself the Ohio Children's Alliance, it was announced Friday.

The change, the group said, reflects the changing environment for child and family services.

"Our new name is more representative of our mission and the composition of our statewide network of community agencies," said Mark Mecum, the group's CEO. "Over the past five decades, our association has grown to over 70 community agencies that provide behavioral health, foster care, and other child and family services. We've also evolved into an alliance that fosters collaboration and innovation. Our new name symbolizes our commitment to Ohio's children and the agencies that serve them."

The organization was founded in 1973.

DeWine Surrogates Defend Actions On Opioid Crisis While Cordray Makes Hay Out Of Health Care

One day after two separate polls were released showing Richard Cordray besting Attorney General Mike DeWine in the gubernatorial contest, the Democrat went on the offensive.

The campaign of Mr. DeWine, meanwhile, on Thursday was playing defense, trotting out local officials to tout his handling of the opioid epidemic.

Mr. Cordray has been highly critical of the attorney general's handling of the crisis. He has accused Mr. DeWine of addressing the issue only once he decided to seek the governor's office and contributing to the state's number of overdose deaths.

Montgomery County Sheriff Phil Plummer called the charges "nothing more than political garbage."

"Mike DeWine has worked harder on this issue than anyone else on the state level," he said during a conference call with reporters organized by the Ohio Republican Party.

Mercer County Sheriff Jeff Grey echoed those sentiments.

"The assertion that Mike DeWine has been tardy in dealing with the opioid epidemic is totally false," he said.

A $21,000 grant from the attorney general's office has allowed for an expansion of a drug prevention program in the six high schools in Mercer County, Sheriff Grey said. He also said the Bureau of Criminal Investigation has been helpful in tackling the epidemic, and he praised Mr. DeWine's willingness to go into small communities to offer help and listen to new ideas.

"He's been a leader in tackling this problem and reaching out to communities large and small," he said.

North Canton Mayor David Held praised AG DeWine for raising awareness about the prescribing habits of health care providers and the social and economic impacts of the epidemic, as well as for taking on pharmaceutical companies for the role they have played.

Ohio Republican Party Chairwoman Jane Timken in a statement also blasted the charges, noting PolitiFact recently found the allegations that Mr. DeWine has been responsible for a spike in opioid overdose deaths to be "mostly false."

"Richard Cordray's baseless attack is a slap in the face to every person affected by the opioid epidemic, and he owes the people of Ohio an apology," she said. "To claim that Mike DeWine has not done all he can to fight the opioid epidemic is flat out wrong."

Mr. Cordray and his running mate, Betty Sutton, held a news conference outside the Statehouse Thursday calling on Mr. DeWine to join 16 other states in defending the constitutionality of a provision in the Affordable Care Act preventing insurance companies from discriminating against people with preexisting conditions. The administration of President Donald Trump recently announced that it would no longer defend the provision.

"We need leaders who will step up and fight when the health and well-being of Ohioans is at stake," he said.

Recent polling found health care to be the second most frequently cited issue by voters when asked about the gubernatorial race. (See Gongwer Ohio Report, June 13, 2018)

Nearly five million Ohioans have a preexisting condition and could lose coverage, according to Mr. Cordray.

One of those individuals is Karen Kostelac, 63, who was diagnosed with multiple sclerosis. The Columbus resident said that until recently she has paid for health care out of pocket.

"We can't stand by and let Mr. DeWine and Republicans get rid of the Affordable Care Act," she said.

If the preexisting condition provision is struck down, Mr. Cordray said it would be a blow in the battle to combat the opioid crisis because addiction is considered a preexisting condition.

"It should be unthinkable to allow insurers to duck their obligations to Ohioans," he said.

Ms. Sutton noted that AG DeWine in 2011 joined a lawsuit challenging the constitutionality of the health care law.

"If it were up to him he would repeal the ACA tomorrow," she said.

Dan Tierney, a spokesman for AG DeWine, said the crux of the case in question revolves around the recently repealed individual mandate in the ACA, which Mr. DeWine does not support. California's motion to intervene, he said, is in support of the law in its totality.

Shortly before Mr. Cordray's event, Ms. Timken in a statement sought to tie Mr. Cordray to national Democrats such as U.S. Sen. Bernie Sanders (D-Vt.) and U.S. Rep. Nancy Pelosi (D-Calif.) who support single-payer health care.

"Fixing healthcare is a top priority across the country, but significantly raising taxes on Ohio families to pay for the $32 trillion plan that Richard Cordray's closest allies are pushing is not the answer," she said.

But Mr. Cordray said single-payer is not in the cards at the state nor national level and he reiterated his support for the law on the books, the ACA.

Many Ohio Wage Levels Mostly Don't Make Housing Ends Meet, Report Finds

Ohio's recovering economy has yet to result in a majority of the top occupations in the state paying enough to cover basic apartment costs, a new report states.

The "Out of Reach Report" released this week found that only two of the top 10 jobs in Ohio pay employees enough to afford a two-bedroom apartment with costs equivalent to a "housing wage" of $15.25 per hour.

Only registered nurses and customer service representatives earn more than the two-bedroom housing wage, as those employees on average make $30.59 an hour and $15.34 an hour, respectively, according to the study jointly released by the National Low Income Housing Coalition and the Coalition on Homelessness and Housing in Ohio.

"Ohio's economy is recovering and our state has added new jobs in recent years. But the lack of affordable housing is a real barrier to continued growth when so many people holding these new jobs can't afford a place to live. Just like home is essential for family stability, housing is the foundation of our economy," COHHIO Executive Director Bill Faith said in a statement.

"The affordable housing gap is bad enough for working families, but it's even worse for people with disabilities, homeless veterans, and those struggling to recover from mental illness and addiction issues. That's why we need state and federal leaders to step up and expand access to affordable homes."

The other top jobs in the state and their median hourly wages are: Food Preparation - $9.40; Retail Salespersons - $10.41; Cashiers - $9.33; Laborers/Freight Movers - $12.66; Waiters/Waitresses - $9.45; Office Clerks - $14.42; Janitors/Cleaners - $11.59; and Stock Clerks - $11.65.

The report found the average renter in Ohio earns $13.32 an hour, or about $2 less than the hourly wage needed to afford a "modest two-bedroom rental unit."

Diane Yentel, president and CEO of the National Low Income Housing Coalition, said low-wage workers often have to choose between paying for rent, health care, childcare, and other basic necessities. She called proposals by President Donald Trump's administration to cut housing benefits "cruel and shortsighted."

"Rather than threatening the housing stability of families struggling to keep roofs over their heads, Congress must invest in expanding housing solutions that provide stable homes for the lowest income people in our country," she said.

Mr. Faith meanwhile applauded recent news indicating U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development Secretary Ben Carson has backed away from the administration's plan to raise rents on individuals receiving rental assistance.

"The administration proposed cutting HUD's budget and raising rents to cover the budget hole. Now Secretary Carson is saying never mind," he said. "Given these erratic policy positions, we will keep fighting to make sure HUD maintains its focus on its mission to 'create strong, sustainable, inclusive communities and quality affordable homes for all.'"

DeWine Touts More Labor Support; Sykes Seeks Security Changes; Ohioans Support 'Dreamers'; National Poll Bodes Well For Dems...

Three more labor unions announced their endorsement of Attorney General Mike DeWine in the gubernatorial contest.

The Indiana/Kentucky/Ohio Regional Council of Carpenters announced the endorsement in a statement saying Mr. DeWine and Secretary of State Jon Husted "have the best experience to continue economic prosperity in Ohio."

"It's all about the opportunity for our members to go to work and provide for their families," council Executive Secretary Mark McGriff said.

Sheet Metal Workers Local 24 and Local 33 also announced its backing of the ticket, with Michael Coleman, president of Local 33, saying it has "a vision to advance the state's workforce development efforts to meet" the needs of every community.

Mr. DeWine also scored an endorsement from the Northwest Ohio Building Trades.

"The construction industry is the life-blood of Ohio's economy, and Mike DeWine and Jon Husted have proven themselves to be the right leaders to move both our industry and the entire state forward," Shaun Enright, representing NWOBTC, said in a release. "Together, Mike DeWine and Jon Husted have been outstanding public servants for our state, and we are confident they have the necessary experience and vision to improve the lives of workers across Ohio."

Security Changes: Rep. Emilia Sykes (D-Akron) is calling for changes to security protocols at state buildings after she said she was subjected to additional security on more than one occasion.

In a letter to Director of Public Safety John Born, she said such additional scrutiny must come to an end.

"My objective is simple; to be treated the same as my peers, no matter how I look when entering the Statehouse and other state office buildings, and to ensure that others are also treated fairly and equally as they move through these public buildings," she wrote.

Dreamer Support: Polling released Thursday by Quinnipiac University found Ohioans are widely in favor of allowing immigrants brought to America as children to stay in the country and eventually having a path to citizenship.

The poll found Ohioans by a 76-19% margin support protecting so-called Dreamers. The support was broad with majorities of Republicans (60%), Democrats (97%) and Independent (74%) on board.

State residents are also generally supportive of raising tariffs on Chinese products (55-34%). However, support falls (46-46%) when asked about the tariffs increasing the cost of good purchased. By a 50-41% margin Ohioans oppose the tariffs if they result in retaliatory border taxes.

"Despite Ohio's reputation as a blue-collar bastion, Buckeye State voters overall are not supportive of increasing tariffs on steel and aluminum imported into the United States from foreign lands," Peter A. Brown, assistant director of the Quinnipiac Poll, said in a release. "Ohio voters are more supportive of raising tariffs on goods from China, until they consider the cost to them, and the possibility that raising tariffs could lead to a trade war."

The polls also found Ohioans are generally supportive of keeping the Affordable Care Act (51-44%). The partisan divide, though, is sharp with 91% of Democrats supporting the health care law and the same percentage of Republicans opposing it.

National Poll: A new national poll released by Public Policy Polling found that Democrats hold a lead of 46-40% on the generic congressional ballot.

Republicans are not being buoyed by their tax overhaul, with just 31% saying they support it and 38% saying they are opposed to the plan.

The poll also found that 51% of voters believe that it will mostly help the rich.

"Republicans thought tax reform would be the key to keeping 2018 from being a strongly Democratic year," Dean Debnam, president of PPP said in a release. "But so far voters just aren't warming up to it."

Among the other findings in the poll was that 63% of President Donald Trump's voters want Special Counsel Robert Mueller fired; 42% of all respondents believe there was collusion between Russian and the campaign of Mr. Trump; just 20% of voters believe the president has the power to pardon himself; and a large number of voters - 86% - continue to back universal background checks.

The polls also looked ahead the 2020 presidential election and found President Trump trailing six potential challengers: former Vice President Joe Biden and U.S. Sens. Bernie Sanders of Vermont, Elizabeth Warren of Massachusetts, Cory Booker of New Jersey, Kirsten Gillibrand of New York and Kamala Harris of California.

Pence Visit: While Vice President Mike Pence is in town on Friday to fundraise for the congressional campaign of Sen. Troy Balderson (R-Zanesville) he'll be greeted by what organizers are calling a "Big Gay Dance Party."

"We want to counter that anti-LGBT attitude that they have with a big, positive, loving dance party," Jay Smith, one of the organizers, said in a release.

Cordray Tour: Democratic gubernatorial candidate Richard Cordray on Thursday announced an "Economic Opportunity Tour" Friday.

The tour includes stops in Warren, Martins Ferry, Zanesville and Newark.

RAGA Support: The Republican Attorneys General Association on Friday announced that it plans to spend at least $1.4 million in Ohio for the general election.

Executive Director Scott Will in a statement said by placing the reservations now they will lock in a lower price and "ensure RAGA's resources will go even further this fall."

"This is just the first wave, we are not done yet," he added.

Brown, Portman Urge Release Of HHS Water Safety Report; Delegation Responds To North Korea Summit ...

Ohio's U.S. senators are among a group of 10 members of the upper chamber calling on the President Donald Trump's administration to release a Health and Human Services study on what levels of certain toxic chemicals are acceptable in drinking water.

The bipartisan group - led by U.S. Sen. Sherrod Brown (D-Cleveland) and U.S. Sen. Rob Portman (R-Terrace Park) - made the request in the wake of a report from POLITICO that the EPA moved to prevent the release of an HHS study of toxic chemicals used in manufacturing processes known as per- and polyfluoroalkyl substances, or PFAS. The substances, which have been found in communities' water supplies in multiple states, have been linked to cancer and other health problems.

The senators wrote a letter to EPA Administrator Scott Pruitt and HHS Secretary Alex Azar requesting the report be released and the EPA update its regulations based on the information the study contains.

"The EPA and other regulatory agencies must rely on the most up-to-date, factually-accurate information based on rigorous science to guide policy decisions and regulations designed to protect the health and well-being of our constituents. Given the wide use of PFAS and presence of these chemicals in communities across the U.S., it is critical that this report be released without delay and that EPA act immediately to update its guidelines to ensure Americans are informed of and protected from the danger of exposure to these toxins," the group wrote.

Summit: President Trump received praise from Ohio's Republican congressmen for his handling of this week's meeting with North Korean dictator Kim Jong-Un in Singapore.

U.S. Rep. Steve Stivers (R-Columbus) in a statement called the summit a "positive step forward" toward the goal of denuclearization.

"I look forward to reviewing the details and Congress receiving the opportunity to approve any agreement that may come," he said. "While it may take time, work, and a number of meetings, I am hopeful these negotiations will lead to a lasting peace and stability in the region."

U.S. Rep. Bill Johnson (R-Marietta) said he applauded the president and his staff for their work on confronting "the real and growing North Korean nuclear threat."

"The strategy used by previous administrations, both Republican and Democratic, clearly did not work, and it was time for a new approach," he said. "I'm hopeful that real progress was made in Singapore - the past does not have to dictate the future. And, I am heartened to see that President Trump will be keeping the strict sanctions in place on North Korea until the actions of Kim Jong-Un match his words."

While he said he recognizes the importance of diplomacy, U.S. Rep. Tim Ryan (D-Niles) added it should be undertaken with the support of allies.

"Regrettably, it seems that we have nothing today to show for our efforts other than a toothless statement and the same promises that the North Korean regime has already given and broken many times over to previous presidents," he said. "On the other side, the North Koreans were given legitimacy on the world stage, and a compulsive assurance from President Trump that the U.S. would suspend joint military exercises with South Korea."

Opioids: The U.S. House this week passed a resolution sponsored by U.S. Rep. Bob Latta (R-Bowling Green) that creates a database containing information health care workers, law enforcement officers and government officials can use to combat the opioid epidemic.

"Every day, more than 115 Americans will die because of an overdose," Rep. Latta said. "While this crisis continues to devastate communities, there is still a lack of information that is making it difficult to create strategies that can effectively address this epidemic."

Rep. Latta said the measure also will create a system to track federal funding being put toward battling the problem.

In other House activity related to the crisis, the chamber passed the Training, Education and Community Help to Combat Addiction Act, which was introduced by Rep. Johnson and Rep. Paul Tonko (D-NY). The measure creates a competitive process for designating institutions as "Centers of Excellence in Substance Use Disorder Education."

"The TEACH to Combat Addiction Act advances an all-hands-on-deck approach to the opioid crisis by leveraging the expertise of health care professional institutions with community partnerships to develop scalable models for integrating (substance-use disorder) prevention, treatment, and recovery more fully into professional education," he said.

Bipartisan legislation introduced by Rep. Stivers requiring the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration to provide guidance promoting evidence-based treatments to institutions that receive federal grants also passed the House.

"In Ohio and across the country, opioids have derailed careers, broken friendships, separated families, and taken lives. Those who have sought treatment have already taken a tremendous step in the right direction, and we owe it to them to help them get their lives back," Rep. Stivers said. "(Tuesday), the House took an important step forward in ensuring people are receiving evidence-based treatment for drug addiction."

Immigration: Rep. Ryan urged the federal government to respect the due process rights of 114 workers detained recently following raids by Immigrations and Customs Enforcement in Castalia and Sandusky.

In a letter to Secretary of Homeland Security Kristjen Nielsen, Rep. Ryan asked for assurance that none of the individuals would be deported without access to an attorney in an immigration court.

"I'm deeply concerned about the use of aggressive force and disruptive manner in which ICE forcibly detained 114 individuals," he wrote. "No person should be deported without full due process or separated from their children and families."

"OBM by law is charged with setting up and running the accounting system. OBM by law manages the budget process on behalf of the governor and then monitors and reviews the budget after the fact," he said.

"If you're going to put into law a requirement that this be done, my argument is it should be the agency that by law runs the accounting system where the data comes from - that runs and monitors the budget - that has the people who understand how the system works and the numbers - what they mean and what they're context is."

"That's not what the treasurer does," Mr. Keen added. "The treasurer invests money for the public and they sell bonds."

Mr. Mandel's site differs in some ways from OBM's, including the addition of financial information on local governments.

"I have no objection if they want to put something up (online) that's fine. I have no problem if they run a local (government) site," the OBM director said. He does have a problem with a state law requiring as much.

Critics have also raised concerns about duplicative efforts and costs. While OBM produces its information in-house for a cost of about $130,000, Mr. Mandel has paid about $2.5 million to OpenGov Inc. to operate its site.

But Mandel spokesman Chris Berry said most of that total deals with OpenGov's work on the local component of the website.

"OhioCheckbook.com, which posts over $650 billion in state spending data, cost $813,979.62 and was funded entirely by the Treasurer's office existing operating budget. OpenGov was not contracted to build the state site," he said in an email. "The Treasurer's office does partner with OpenGov to provide residents of Ohio the ability to view and search their local government expenditures in a user-friendly, digital format but this is different than the state site which is what HB40 deals with."

Deputy Treasurer Seth Metcalf said in earlier testimony on the bill that it does not address the local government component of the checkbook website, which Mr. Mandel wants to keep voluntary.

Despite its voluntary nature, dozens of local government entities have agreed to post their budgetary data on the site.

"Treasurer Mandel believes that when you give citizens the tools to better track government spending, more responsible decisions will be made," Mr. Metcalf said. "This legislation is just one more way to shine sunlight on government, so that taxpayers can follow their hard-earned tax dollars and hold public officials accountable."

HB40 is the third iteration of the proposal, as the prior two cleared the House but stalled in the Senate. They were House Bill 46 of the 131st General Assembly and House Bill 175 of the 130th General Assembly.

OBM describes its site as follows: "Ohio's Interactive Budget is a first of its kind, comprehensive website that provides open access to the financial and transactional data contained in the State's accounting system. The Interactive Budget presents a detailed look at the budget, spending and revenues using Tableau software (purchased by the state for use by all agencies) to share a graphic depiction of our data."

In the two years since the website launched in June 2016, more than 39,000 unique users visited our site more than 75,000 times, according to OBM. The data on the budget site is updated daily.

Public Universities' Annual Economic Impact Tops $40 Billion, Study Finds

The presidents of Ohio's public universities Tuesday touted a study showing their institutions, students and alumni added $42 billion to state's economy in fiscal year 2016-17 as a rationale for increased investment from the legislature.

The study, which Economic Modeling Specialists International conducted for the Inter-University Council of Ohio, also determined one of 12 jobs in the state is supported directly or indirectly by public universities and their students. The report also found Ohio students receive $4.60 in higher earnings for every $1 they spend on tuition, supplies and other costs related to attending a public university.

Jay Gershen, president of Northeast Ohio Medical University and chairman of the IUC board, said another key finding from the study was that the government sees $4.10 in economic benefits for every dollar state and local governments spend in support of the system.

"The study provides solid, quantifiable evidence of the value of Ohio's public institutions of higher education, including the fact that they generate more tax dollars than they collect, which strengthens the rationale for supporting a robust system of public universities," he said.

Hannah Ruffridge, assistant director of consulting for EMSI, said the state benefits in multiple ways from its spending on higher education. She said university graduates tend to pay more in state taxes, while spending on the university system decreases the state's costs in areas such as health, unemployment and welfare benefits, as well as prisons.

"All those are government savings that will be experienced by taxpayers," she said.

The IUC released the report amid its ongoing campaign known as Forward Ohio, which calls for additional investment from the state in higher education to help shrink the state's talent gap. (See Gongwer Ohio Report, May 14, 2018)

More than 155,000 jobs - about half of which have a salary of $50,000 or more - sit open in the Ohio, according to the state's Ohio Means Jobs website.

"Our state's economic future, our collective ability to attract and retain jobs investment and jobs depends on our ability to supply employers with skilled, credentialed workers," Dr. Gershen said, adding that "no entity" will play a larger role in shrinking the gap than the state's public university system.

Ohio State University President Michael Drake echoed his colleague's comments.

"We play an indispensable role in closing the gap we have in the qualifications that we need to power industries forward," he said.

Although the study measured the economic impact of the university system over one year, Ms. Ruffridge said the state should expect to see similar totals to the $42 billion figure in future years.

"This (result) will be repeated for the most part across year after year," she said.

Sen. Randy Gardner (R-Bowling Green), who offered introductory remarks at the press conference at which the study was unveiled, said while encouraging residents to seek baccalaureate and advanced degrees is important, the state also needs more workers with associate degrees and experience in skilled trades.

"We really need an all-of-the-above education attainment approach in this state if we are going to meet the diverse demands of Ohio's economy," he said.

IUC President Bruce Johnson said the report does not come with any specific recommendations for the legislature, although he said the implied advice should be "relatively obvious."

"We always encourage (additional investment) because it pays off for the taxpayer, it pays off for the student and it pays off the state government," he said.

Workforce Board Reviews Changes To OhioMeansJobs, Library Initiative

OhioMeansJobs is about to get even more features to help connect prospective employees and employers, it was announced Tuesday.

Mark Birnrich, project director of OhioMeansJobs, said more than 100 enhancements are coming to the website through a partnership with Monster.com.

Among the new tools that will be available on the site is one to teach users about financial literacy and another designed to address skills gaps.

With the latter, a user will upload their resume, answer questions and select an occupation, Mr. Birnrich told members of the Governor's Executive Workforce Board.

Once completed, the website will provide users with guidance on overcoming their skills gap.

OhioMeansJobs also plans to roll out several new mobile app features during the State Fair. The app will allow users to check in and out to comply with programs in which they are participating. It will also push jobs using geofencing and pinpoint the locations on a map.

"We'll hopefully have these signs all throughout the state fair," Mr. Birnrich said of the marketing strategy.

Another feature will provide employers with talent matching upon making a job posting. Other changes include job search by degree or certificate; a career coach; a school finder; a job search heat map; and a work values tool that allows users to determine what occupations best match their personality and work style preference.

Sen. Bill Beagle (R-Tipp City) questioned whether the website will remain easy to use given all the changes.

"That is something we are concerned about just because we are adding all these great features," Mr. Birnrich responded.

Workforce Development: Held at the Columbus Metropolitan Library, much of the meeting was focused on ways in which libraries are serving their communities to boost the state's workforce.

Debbie Saunders, director of the Samuel L. Bossard Memorial Library in Gallia County, said her library is looking to solve the problem of a lack of broadband in rural Ohio through the use of a mobile hotspot device that library card holders can borrow for up to two weeks at a time.

"Our libraries play an important role in narrowing this technological gap," she said.

Launched in March 2017 with 20 kits, the program has grown to include 100 devices with a wait list of 200 people.

The program allows people to take advantage of online training opportunities, apply for jobs and more, Ms. Saunders said.

Patrick Losinski, CEO of Columbus' library system, said the 22 locations throughout central Ohio are a place for learning and job training.

"It's not uncommon for us to have someone that lost a job in manufacturing come in for keyboard and mouse training," he said.

Asked about how he takes the libraries' services to those on the streets, Mr. Losinski acknowledged that libraries are no longer a passive service and the system has partnered with non-profits and school systems. But he also said the public recognizes libraries as a valuable resource.

"With six million visitors to our locations more people are coming in than perhaps most people understand," he said.

Ryan Burgess, director of the workforce panel, said progress is being made on a recommendation in the state's two-year budget (HB 49) that the board partner with libraries across the state. Thus far, the board has entered into 57 memorandums of understanding.

He said more than 8.7 million Ohioans have library cards and the state ranks first nationally in library visits, making them a key partner.

In-Demand Jobs Week: Mr. Burgess said with 150 events across the state, In-Demand Jobs Week proved to be a success.

During the week, he said, traffic to OhioMeansJobs increased by 69%. The event also received about 1,500 mentions on Twitter, reaching 5.9 million Twitter users.

"I think it was a success," he said. "We are already hearing about communities that are planning for their 2019 events."

Brown Up With New Ad; DeWine Picks Up Labor Endorsement; O'Connor Seeks To Distance Himself From Pelosi...

U.S. Sen. Sherrod Brown on Tuesday released his third ad of the general election campaign.

Unlike the first two spots, the Cleveland Democrat did not go negative in the most recent one, which focuses on his opposition to trade deals.

"I've made protecting Ohio jobs my top priority," he says in the 30-second spot, "For Ohio." "I'm proud I voted against NAFTA and trade deals with Colombia and South Korea and opposed the Trans-Pacific Partnership that put our jobs at risk."

Labor Endorsement: Attorney General Mike DeWine on Tuesday picked up another union endorsement.

The Ohio Conference of Plasterers & Cement Masons is the latest trade union to back his gubernatorial candidacy.

"Our members want to know that Ohio is going to be a great place to work and raise a family, not just today, but for their kids' and grandkids' generations, which is a vision represented for every Ohioan through Mike DeWine," Kenneth Vierling, president of the union, said in a release.

Pelosi Distance: Danny O'Connor on Tuesday released his first general election campaign ad in his congressional bid.

In "New Leadership," the Franklin County Recorder talks about his small town upbringing and seeks to distance himself from U.S. Rep. Nancy Pelosi (D-Calif.)

"I think we need a change in leadership on both sides of the aisle," he says. "Paul Ryan's not doing anything for working families. But we need new leadership on the Democratic side of things, too. We need a new generation of leadership."

North Korea: Gov. John Kasich weighed in Tuesday on President Donald Trump's meeting with the North Korean leader.

The potential 2020 presidential candidate in a statement called the results of the meeting between Mr. Trump and North Korean dictator Kim Jong-Un "long on form and short on substance."

"North Korea has a history of misleading the west and backing away from agreements," he said. "Many previous attempts have failed. Promises from North Korea don't matter; we should not back off our economic and political pressure until there is a verifiable agreement and implementation has begun."

Special Election: A poll released by Monmouth University found Sen. Troy Balderson (R-Zanesville) holding a comfortable lead over Mr. O'Connor in the special election to replace former U.S. Rep. Pat Tiberi.

The poll found that Sen. Balderson currently holds a lead of 43-33% over Mr. O'Connor. Using a likely voter model that includes a surge of Democratic voters in Franklin County, Sen. Balderson still holds a lead of 46-39%.

Patrick Murray, director of the independent Monmouth University Polling Institute, said in a statement those numbers do not bode well for a "blue wave" sweeping Mr. O'Connor to victory in the right-leaning district.

"Democrats seem to be more settled on a candidate than Republicans and O'Connor may have an opening to win over some of those undecided voters. But the real challenge may be motivation rather than persuasion," he said.

In other developments, Sen. Balderson announced he was donating $10,000 he had received in Senate campaign contributions from Electronic Classroom of Tomorrow founder William Lager to charities. ECOT closed earlier this year and remains under scrutiny over its attendance reporting practices.

Preexisting Conditions: The Democratic Congressional Campaign Committee is going on the offensive against U.S. Rep. Mike Turner (R-Dayton), attacking him for the decision of the administration of President Trump to no longer defend an Affordable Care Act provision protecting those with preexisting conditions.

"Never Stop" is part of a five-figure ad buy that will run on Facebook, according to the DCCC.

"After their failure to fully repeal our healthcare, Republicans persisted by gutting key parts of the Affordable Care Act in their tax bill, and are now using that opening to end protections for people with pre-existing conditions like cancer, diabetes and asthma," Chairman Ben Ray Lujan said in a release.

New Staffers: U.S. Rep. Jim Renacci (R-Alliance) has added two new staffers to his U.S. Senate campaign.

Sarah Clamp has been brought on to serve as deputy campaign manager. She last managed a U.S. Senate campaign in West Virginia. Leslie Shield will serve as senior communications advisor after previously holding the title of vice president of communications for the National Restaurant Association.

"As we work to meet with more people across Ohio and talk about our plans to fight for them in the U.S. Senate, Leslie's and Sarah's experience will be a great asset," Rep. Renacci said in a release.

Agency Briefs: Husted Issues Guidance On Voter Rolls After Court Ruling; Auditor; ODNR

County election boards must hold off on resuming the "supplemental process" of scrubbing voter rolls until after the November elections, Secretary of State Jon Husted announced Tuesday.

His guidance was delivered via a communication sent by Assistant Secretary of State Matthew Damschroder in the wake of Monday's split U.S. Supreme Court ruling that upheld the state's system for removing registered voters from the rolls after they skip elections and don't respond to notices. (See Gongwer Ohio Report, June 11, 2018)

"You are hereby advised to take no action until further notice regarding Ohio's supplemental process that has been on hold since this litigation began in 2016. Once additional information and instructions are available we will provide it to you," Mr. Damschroder wrote.

He added that "it is important to remember that even though the Court clearly said Ohio's longstanding supplemental list maintenance process did not conflict with the National Voter Registration Act, the other requirements of the NVRA prohibit list maintenance cancellations prior to this November's general election."

Husted spokesman Sam Rossi said that's because federal elections are slated for Aug. 7 and Nov. 6, and federal law prohibits cancelling voter registrations less than 90 days prior to a federal election.

State Auditor: Dave Yost on Tuesday released an audit of the Village of Alexandria in Licking County that details the extent of the theft perpetrated by former fiscal officer Laura Vanscoy Andrews.

The auditor ordered her to repay $201,153 to the for "checks she wrote to herself, money she stole from deposits and payments that lacked supporting documentation."

"This fiscal officer's abuse of power was toxic to the Village of Alexandria," Auditor Yost said in a statement. "Her prison sentence is a well-deserved punishment for the seven years she spent ripping off the community."

Ms. Vanscoy Andrews pleaded no contest in November to the crimes and was sentenced to four years in prison and ordered to pay restitution plus court costs.

In addition to verifying her crimes, the audit found "no evidence that village council monitored financial activity, and the village had no accounting policies in place, Mr. Yost's office reported. The village has reported taking steps to strengthen its internal controls.

Department of Natural Resources: The agency and U.S. Hotel and Resort Management announced new renovations and acquisitions stemming from the group assuming management of Maumee Bay State Park Lodge and Conference Center.

U.S. Hotel will also operate four other lodges including Deer Creek, Mohican, Punderson and Salt Fork, which brings their total to eight throughout Ohio. The group also runs Burr Oak, Hueston Woods and Shawnee lodges.

"U.S. Hotel is a great partner, and we are excited for them to expand their work with our state park lodges around the state," said ODNR Director James Zehringer. "This is a win-win situation for both ODNR and U.S. Hotel, but most important, this change and new investment will really benefit our guests."

"What started out as a simple quest to get our fourth Ohio State Park has morphed into something we could only have dreamed of," said Tom Biegler, President and CEO of U.S. Hotel and Resort Management. "The Maumee Bay contract was the 'Holy Grail.' We knew that it was the newest of the lodges, but it was also in the most incredible location, sitting on the shore of Lake Erie. This is exactly where we want to be and we're anxious to see where our experience will take us going forward."

U.S. Hotel plans to build a "Reunion Cabin" on the shore of Lake Erie at Maumee Bay that will accommodate parties of more than 20 with large bedrooms and a state-of-the-art kitchen, according to ODNR. The company will also construct additional camping cabins to take advantage of Maumee Bay's beautiful Lake Erie views.

U.S. Hotel began operations at the Maumee Bay Lodge Jan. 31 under a contract that entails the company committing $2.5 million for property improvements.

Subject: Deconstructing the Administrative State Luncheon
Attachments: Deconstructing Admin State Lunch Invite.pdf

Hello! Had enough of bureaucracy? Tired of all the red tape? Concerned about rogue agencies seemingly operating impervious to oversight? I am, too!

A wise man once said, "There is no such thing as a free lunch," but he was wrong!

On Wednesday May 23rd there will be a panel discussion of HB580 featuring the American Principles Project's Erin Tuttle, Greg Lawson of The Buckeye Institute, and Micah Derry of Americans for Prosperity. It will be moderated by Representative Andy Thompson. There will also be a free lunch provided by the parties in question.

House Bill 580, adds oversight and transparency to Ohio executive agencies' applications for federal grants, in an effort to control the rise of the administrative state. The discussion will include how the bureaucracy of our federal and state governments has grown over time, and how this administrative growth has specifically hurt the State of Ohio through federal grants and mandates. We will discuss how HB580 will help address the problem we have with a rising administrative state, and institute oversight via the executive branch.

WHERE: 31st Fl. North Room

WHEN: Wednesday May 23rd from 11:00-12:15

WHO: All Members and Staff are invited

Please RSVP to AJ Thomas (AJ.Thomas@ohiohouse.gov) by Friday May 18th so we may have a count for lunch.

We hope to see you there!

MEMORANDUM

To: All House Members
From: Representative Stephanie Howse
Date: May 10, 2018
RE: Co-Sponsor Request: Employee Public Assistance Report

Greetings Colleagues,

I will soon be introducing legislation that will create an annual report of the number of employees from both the public and private sectors that currently receive some form of public assistance.

Under this bill, the government will be required to compile a list of the Top 50 public and private employers with the highest amount of employees participating in public assistance programs, such as Medicaid, Child Care, Cash Programs, Food Programs, among others.

This report would help determine the areas of labor that require critical attention from the state, enabling the path for legislation specifically tailored to help workers in greater need. Additionally, this bill would serve as a tool to expose problems within employers and certain industries that limit an employee's opportunity to attain financial progress.

If you would like to co-sponsor this bill, do not hesitate to contact Ángel Guzmán at (614) 466-1414 or Angel.Guzman@ohiohouse.gov. The deadline to co-sponsor is Monday, May 14 at 12:00pm.

DRAFT

RESOLUTION REGARDING SUBSIDIES FOR ALTERNATIVE-FUELED VEHICLE

WHEREAS, affordable and dependable energy is essential to modern life, America's economic competitiveness, and the well-being of American citizens and businesses; and

WHEREAS, anything that increases the costs of energy – particularly without providing a measurable, meaningful benefit to those affected by such an increase – has an immediate and negative impact on citizens and institutions, especially those with low and fixed incomes, the elderly, and local institutions such as schools and hospitals; and

WHEREAS, individuals, families, and businesses should make their own decisions about what kinds of cars to purchase and what kinds of fuels to use; and

WHEREAS, individuals, families, and businesses should not be forced to subsidize others, especially those with higher incomes and greater assets; and

WHEREAS, the federal government and most individual states currently provide direct subsidies in the form of tax credits, rebates, and other incentives to owners of alternative-fueled vehicles, including electric, natural gas, biofuel, propane clean diesel and, in some instances, supporting fueling infrastructure; and

WHEREAS, some states have allowed for agreements in which costs to construct and operate fueling infrastructure is socialized, requiring all ratepayers and taxpayers to pay for the infrastructure that will likely be used by a small minority of consumers.

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED THAT the American Legislative Exchange Council opposes all federal, state, and local efforts to compel consumers to subsidize any and all vehicles, fueling infrastructure, or the fuels dispensed by such infrastructure.
